Medicare Part D Transition

What is Part D transition?

A Part D transition is a policy that provides you immediate access to the prescription drugs you use when your coverage for those drugs is changing. It's a good idea during your transition period to talk with your doctor about getting a formulary exception, or about other drugs that might work for you.

When does a Part D transition apply?

You're eligible for a Part D transition when:

- You are a new Medicare Advantage member who enrolls in a plan with prescription drug coverage
- Our yearly Drug List (formulary) changes and impacts you negatively

What changes to a Drug List can have a negative impact?

A negative impact can happen when medications are removed from a Drug List, prior authorization or step therapy requirements are added, or quantity limitations are changed for drugs on the list.

How does Part D transition work?

- If you are a new member or current member who was affected by a yearly Drug List change: You have a transition period of 90 days. During that time, you can get a one-time 30-day supply of your affected prescriptions.

What happens when you need a refill?

We will mail you a letter within three days after receiving your transition supply of drugs. The letter explains how you can request an exception and encourages you to discuss your medications with your doctor.

How much will you pay?

It depends on the tier level of the drug. If the drug is not on our list, you pay the cost of our exception tier. Members who qualify for a Low Income Subsidy (LIS) pay an amount pre-determined by their level of assistance.

Where can you learn more?

Visit bcidaho.com/pharmacy to learn more about Part D transition, including transitioning into a long-term care facility, or how to request an exception or appeal a decision.

You can also contact us at 1-855-479-3661 (TTY: 711)
